

Friday, October 09, 2009

Dear Students, Faculty and Staff,

We sincerely regret to inform you that the SEASONAL FLU SHOTS scheduled for the University of Memphis campus are temporarily discontinued as of today, Friday, October 09. This has occurred because of manufacturing shortages of the seasonal influenza vaccine. In the event more of the vaccine is available to resume the schedule, we will inform you.

We strongly suggest every person get a seasonal flu vaccine this fall from their primary care physician, or any of the many flu shot clinics around our community.

Sincerely,

Student Health Services